

Warren Dunes Outing

Saturday, December 8th, ConQuest Lemont boys club hosted an all-day outing to Warren Dunes State Park. We also made a visit to the High School seminary, Sacred Heart Apostolic School, in Rolling Prairie, IN.

There were about 20 boys and Dads from Chicago, Frankfort and Lemont ConQuest clubs that joined us for an incredible adventure. We played dodgeball for about an hour after we arrived.

Three boys from the Chicago area shared their vocation stories with us: Shane L., Kevin P. and Dillon C. All three boys were very poised and calm as they described why they are attending Sacred Heart Apostolic School, why they are giving Christ and His Church the first chance in their lives. They also answered questions from our group, questions like, “do you have homework and how often do you get to play at the Dunes?”.

Then we watched a video about the apostolic school and we saw some of the fun that the boys have when they’re studying or having recreation. The pictures from the Dunes got a lot of attention.

Next, we went to Warren Dunes for a snack and fun in the snow. You won’t believe how much snow was there. The sledding was great! And the weather was alright, not too cold or too windy for us.

After the sledding, we enjoyed a campfire lunch of hamburgers, hot dogs, chips, apples, cookies and snack bars with plenty of water to drink. Finally, we toasted marshmallows and enjoyed hot chocolate. If you missed it this time, we hope to see you there next time.
